Fischer Panda UK Announces Exclusivity Agreement with ASG at the Commercial Vehicle Show 2022

Onboard power solutions specialist becomes the exclusive UK distributor for ASG brand's Mastervolt and Blue Sea Systems in the professional vehicle sector

For power application specialist Fischer Panda UK, business developments prevail with its announcement of becoming the exclusive UK supplier in the professional vehicle sector for ASG brand's Mastervolt and Blue Sea Systems.

With the new agreement in place, Fischer Panda UK continues to establish itself as one of the most dependable suppliers of hybrid onboard equipment and electrical components in today's commercial vehicle industry.

Fischer Panda UK has been established in this market for over 25 years and has been Mastervolt's Technical Partner for 11 years. The exclusivity agreement with ASG, a globally renowned supplier of products and integrated systems, means that Fischer Panda UK is the preferred distributor in the country to supply the leading onboard hybrid power solutions, by offering efficient ways of powering equipment while supporting clients' needs to reduce carbon emissions.

“As the UK's exclusive distributor for Mastervolt through ASG, we can maintain our reputation for offering superior onboard equipment and tailored applications,” said Barry Fower, Fischer Panda's Managing Director. He added: “It also means we can create ideal solutions from design to installation with world-class aftercare and support, and in a way that's better for the environment.”

“We are delighted to be partnering with Fischer Panda UK. They are one of the market leading providers of hybrid power solutions, where Mastervolt products play a big part. As experts on our products, Fischer Panda UK can also provide standalone Mastervolt power storage and system supply solutions, which have our MLI Ultra Lithium Ion batteries as their cornerstone. Together, Fischer Panda UK and Mastervolt both play a part in helping their customers to go green,” said Mark Walmsley, RV Commercial Director for ASG.

ASG believes that its capacity to innovate is what sets Mastervolt apart from competition. Backed by technologically advanced Lithium Ion batteries and fully integrated power conversion equipment providing off-grid power through products including alternators and regulators, batteries and chargers, digital control and monitoring devices, inverters, chargers and transformers.
