JL Audio Marine Europe: JL Audio's First European Marine Audio Brochure Now Available

JL Audio Marine Europe, the European distributor for the USA's leading marine audio brand, JL Audio has published its first product sales brochure for the European market. The brochure will be available from JL Audio's stand at this month's METSTRAD in Amsterdam.

The new A4 brochure, offers an informative and comprehensive listing of JL Audio's complete range of premium marine audio products, from its high performance speaker systems to the latest in marine audio connectivity including JL Audio's new source unit, the MediaMaster®100s. A full list of specifications on each product is included to help the customer choose the right product for their boat.

Built specifically for the tough marine environment, JL Audio's marine products ensuring the exceptional sound quality retains its clarity season after season. Using the highest quality materials and state-of-the-art design engineering ensures a JL Audio speaker exposed to the harsh marine environment will retain its performance and appearance far longer than other speakers.

"Our new brochure does an extremely good job in reflecting our premium branding, robust design and demonstrates how our products can create an amazing on board entertainment experience," said Paul Baker, JL Audio Marine Europe's Managing Director. "I am sure it will be a fantastic sales tool for both us and our European distributors."

JL Audio Marine Europe's new brochure is available to download online at www.jlaudiomarine.eu as a PDF or as a print version on request.
